Olivia Newton-John, Don't Ask A Friend

(Olivia Newton-John)

You say you want to know most everything about him But babe, what you're saying is that you don't want to doubt him If I told you all the truth you wouldn't want to see him anymore But I'm his friend as well and there's no way I can tell Tales that will make you unsure

Don't ask a friend; don't make me tell a lie Don't ask a friend to be your alibi You know that I would like to help you patch it up again I'm your lonely hearts club friend Don't ask a friend

I've known him for so long to me he's like a brother And if I needed help will I know there'd be no other But you're as close to me as any friend that I have ever known I'm caught up in between his devil and your dream Please make your choice on your own

Don't ask a friend; don't make me tell a lie Don't ask a friend to be your alibi You know that I would like to help you patch it up again I'm your lonely hearts club friend Don't ask a friend
