

Olivia Newton-John, Hands Across The Sea

(Findon/Wilkins)

And there'll be hands, hands across the sea
Touching everybody, joining you and me

If we could build a new horizon
I'd like to see some changes made
When nations hear the voice of reason
And all the world live unafraid

And there'll be hands, hands across the sea
People joined as one, innocent and free
And we'll have love, love and sympathy
Touching everybody, joining you and me

If we could share that new tomorrow
You with your troubles, me with mine
Then we could face the world together
With open heart and easy mind

And there'll be hands, hands across the sea
People joined as one, innocent and free
And we'll have love, love and sympathy
Touching everybody, joining you and me
Hands across the sea
Hands across the sea
