WINTER ANGEL

Melted into one by summer's heat
Caught inside the eye, the storm was sweet
We were lost in a sun dream, giving in to the warmth
Falling back to earth with autumn's breeze

Winter Angel, you're a gift to springtime
You're a breath of heaven
But I have no home for you
Winter Angel, though my heart is heavy
I just hope someday you'll know how much I love you

Frightened by the thought of losing you
But more afraid what bitter love could do
Will you ever forgive me, will you ever return
Will you want to know who carried you

Winter Angel, you're gift to springtime
Your breath of heaven
But I have no home for you
Winter Angel, though my heart is heavy
I just hope someday you'll know how much I love you
(Ahhh)

Winter Angel, though my heart is heavy
I just hope soemeday you'll know how much I love you
Will you want to know, who carried you.
