

Oman Freestyle, Sun Bursts

I wanna go back home
And hear the way you used to sigh
I wanna see your face
And look at the light that once came from your eyes
I wanna be the one to wake you up after a long night
I wanna be there with you waiting for the next sunrise

I wanna walk with you
Down to the beach where we first kissed
If I just close my eyes
I still can feel you on my lips
I want your arms around me
Holding me tight, it's all alright
I wanna be there with you waiting for the next sunrise

A drizzle of rain
A gust of wind
Is all that keeps me from my goal
Today
I feel the pain
I feel the pain

I wanna go back home
And soothe you when you want to cry
I wanna see your face
And wipe the tears that come down from your eyes
I wish that we could go
Back to the day when I first realized
I wanna be there with you waiting for the next sunrise

A drizzle of rain
A gust of wind
Is all that keeps me from my goal
Today
I feel the pain
Torn in a thousand ways
Fields of gold
Turning gray
Under these stormy skies
And all I can do
Is wait for the next
Wait for the next
Sunrise
