

Omnisoul, Scare The Night

If you wanted to leave you would;
And if I wanted to leave I would.
But I see strength in us left to spare;
And when we cry it just shows we
Can't breathe this air sometimes.
I fear that's an awful sign.
I just want a normal life.
Not one in black and white.
Then I think well why should I
Stay here and waste my time?
Time's given to a life,
And to waste it who am I?

But we are the fighters,
And we won't be denied.
We cool the fires,
And we scare the night.

Do you think of me when you sing?
Think of the love that can hurt to bring.

Is there still strength in us left to spare?
'Cause when we cry it just shows we
Can't breathe this air sometimes.
I fear that's an awful sign.
I just want a normal life.
Not one in black and white.
Then I think well why should I
Stay here and waste my time?
Time's given to a life,
And to waste it who am I?

But we are the fighters,
And we won't be denied.
We cool the fires,
And we scare the night.

Never strange, never false.
Never strange, never false.
You said you gave it all you had.
You gave it all you had.
Never strange, never scared
