

On Broken Wings, Suffer

I cannot deny what I say

What I want is you

I'll see the world fall to its knees, rise and fall

Sometimes I wish everything I did wasn't killing time

Until we're face to face again

You don't look as disappointed as you will with time

"It's all right",

You'll tell me when everything's stripped away

"Understand completely that your everything's not everything to me"
