

On My Honor, Choke

I just called to say, what wrong tonight
But its the same thing as every time
Youre pissed, saying Im a prick
And a liar and a fake
For crying
Out loud
Its so sad
That you cant
Keep my name out of your mouth
And if you dont have anything nice to say
Just hold it all in and choke
And maybe even suffocate
On every half truth youve told
You say youre better off without me in your life
And I guess Ill take it this time
Because truth be told
You were never there from the start
For crying
Out loud
Its so sad
That you cant
Seem to figure this one out
And if you dont have anything nice to say
Just hold it all in and choke
And maybe even suffocate
On every half truth youve told
Cause what goes around
Comes around and
Everybody knows
No matter what you say
Youre just a two-faced, half-done
Kind of person
A less impressive version
Of everything we are
And if you dont have anything nice to say
Just hold it all in and choke
And maybe even suffocate
On every half truth youve told
I hope you choke
