

On Thorns I Lay, Neverending Hope

I don't search for nothing in my life as I close my soul in cold rain words of fears Said me that you'll travel away from light having no desire in this crazy fucking world Don't betray your fate find your secret self is coming up to you It is getting strange every single day and might be so true Finally at the end is so hard to feel my emotions and these screams in me sleep Hidden secrets send me warning of damnation
No more drugs to find a new way
