

On Thorns I Lay, Sunrise Of A New Age

Colors and melodies
Shell my mind
Winds and perfumes
Escort the sunrise of a new age
So long
From the human damnation
And the dance is beginning now...
A mass face to face with life and death
Into the night fear isn't hindrance for the fantasy
The sound that emerged
From the depths of the earth
Inundates the souls of so many people
The beat that makes the hearts of your heart to follow the real quickness
As the music makes the body to move without end
Inundates the humans with delight and get angry the instincts
And as the dance continues
Extasy overflows the souls
And the sweatness bodies feel the necessity to become one and to speak each other
Now everybody want to reveal
His real oneself
Into the insanity
And the influences of drugs
And as the night becomes bigger
Pretty female figures
Invite us so close to them
To feel the sweet passion...
And the extasy of love
The bodies stay naked and continue to romb
Around the fire into smokes and colors that tear the darkness
Colors and melodies
Shell my mind
Winds and perfumes escort the sunrise of a new age
