

Once, All the way down

You have broken me all the way down,
down upon my knees.
And you have broken me all the way down,
you'll be the last, you'll see.
Some fight you gave,
and I pushed you away
from me.
And in the morning when you turn in
I'll be far to sea.
And you have broken me all the way down.
You'll be the last, you'll see.
And what chance have we got when you've missed every shot
for me?
And in the morning when you turn in
I'll be out of reach.
And in the darkness when you find this
I'll be far to sea.
And you have broken me all the way down.
You'll be the last, you'll see.
