

Once Nothing, Avoid Me Like The Plague

Give me five more minutes to sleep this night off.
I've been talking to my ghost that haunts my bedroom.
My heart is like a brick!
I don't feel so well after dining with demons
And waking up with a corpse
It's hard to find your way home
When you don't know how you got there.
So give me anything except rolling eyes.
You will be the last face I see before I die.
Give it time, my headache will subside.
Give it time!
Believe me when I say, "they've got nothing on you!"
