

One Bad Pig, Lust

Thought I was building a man, but I was building a wall
So tall, couldnt make it fall
Talked myself into living a lie
Why do I feel so low trying to feel so high

Brick by brick youre building it higher
And you know that the voice that you hear is a liar
Reality hits your head like a bat
And you know that youre trapped, trapped like a rat

Chorus:
Cant break free but you know that you must
Run away from the things that you just cant trust
All the things you feel like your heart will bust
It corodes like rust.....lust

Draw the lines then I cross the lines
Am I moving up or falling further behind
Feels like Im getting close to the ledge
When will I take that step over the edge

Brick by brick youre building it higher
And you know that the voice that you hear is a liar
Reality hits your head like a bat
And you know that youre trapped, trapped like a rat

Cant break free but you know that you must
Run away from the things that you just cant trust
All the things you feel like your heart will bust
It corodes like rust.....lust

Still small voice crying out to me
Why dont you turn around, I can set you free
I can break that wall with one drop of My blood
Let me in, Ill come in like a flood
Now its time for you to realize
That it breaks my heart when you fantasize
Theres a choice, gotta make it now
Dont shut Me out - Dont shut Me out!!!!

Cant break free but you know that you must
Run away from the things that you just cant trust
All the things you feel like your heart will bust
It corodes like rust.....lust
