

One Dollar Short, From The Start

Everytime I see your smiling face,
I cant put another thought in its place.
Youre the book of reasons, I am who I am.
I like to see you with your angel wings on
And that halo above your head.
You take me to a place where everything makes sense instead.
(And that's what you do yeah)

Youre everything I never knew I needed.
Youre everything I ever wanted,
And I don't want to walk this earth alone.
Where were you when I needed you from the start
