

One King Down, Defiance

My eyes close tighter
To wish it all away
No one will be left
To take the blame

Other let each other sink deeper
Into the unbroken cycle of self slavery
One day will come when all will see
It's all the same

Uncovered freezing
In the depths of your mind, so alone
Exposed unbroken
Against this wind and sun

Defiance

Nothing will change
Innocent children remain as slaves
The truth denied and their lies
Burn me alive

I kneel before you
Wed to this edge for life
It has become my inner self
My true self

It's me
