

One Man Army, Let's Call It An Evening

Waiting in the courtyard, all the lights gone out like always and everyday since we first met I got's to hurry just to wait, for the few passers by let's call it an evening and say goodnight

I dont care i wont do it if i have to i play it slow when im feeling blue or give it up just to spite you I dont care i wont do it cause i need to i'll play it faster cause i hate you i can even play it outta tune

We dont care we wont play it if we have to we'll play it slow when we feel blue or give it up just to spite you We dont care we wont do it cause we need to we'll play it faster cause we hate you we can even play it outta tune
