

Onelinedrawing, Breathless

how could I be happy on a day like today when I can't even breathe i should put myself away and run how could I feel lucky gettin' what I just received took it in the ass all that gravel and broken glass those are scars that last does this make it over? I know.

come down, breathless heather -- I know soggy little nothings, that's all they really are rotted too long in there better give them all some air they're just lies

i have told a couple now that's a lie right there, i've told so many more but i'm not keeping score god, I love your smile

does this make it over? I know.
