

OneRepublic, Prodigal

We say good-bye, I turn my back
Run away, run away
So predictable
Not far from here, you see me crack
Like a bone, like a bone
I'm so breakable

And I take everything from you
But you'll take anything
Won't you?

Run away, run away, like a prodigal
Don't you wait for me, don't you wait for me
So ashamed, so ashamed
But I need you so
And you wait for me, and you wait for me

I'm on the road, to who knows where?
Look ahead, not behind
I keep saying, there's no place to go
Where you're not there
On your rope, I hold tight
But it's freeing

And I take everything from you
But you'll take anything
Won't you?

Run away, run away, like a prodigal
Don't you wait for me, don't you wait for me
So ashamed, so ashamed
But I need you so
And you wait for me, and you wait for me

Everybody wants to be right
But only if it's not day light?
I keep trying to find my way back
My way back

Run away, run away, like a prodigal
Don't you wait for me, don't you wait for me
So ashamed, so ashamed
But I need you so
And you wait for me, and you wait for me

Runaway, runaway, runaway
>From you, from you, from you
