

Open Hand, Time To Talk

anything for you
is what you told me
the day i sat there with you so alone
nothing lasts forever
when will we realize its gone?
anything for you
did we understand that words were not enough? you said to me that this would last forever why did we rely on
its all over now
why you?
you walked away
why you?
you said that i dont wanna work it out you know that i try i do lie sometimes
we're just wasting time why did we rely on the time when i lie?
i know you say to me that things have changed i look in your eyes and i know that things will remain the same you said that i follow you, yea we've lost it all again
