

Ophthalmia, Journey in Darkness / Entering the I'm kneeling down on the forest's deiny ground sun of the infinite sky doesn't reach me here Oh darkness embrace me blood stop circulating the mist surrounds me as I'm falling away my trance

My blackened teeth chew at the air we breathe

(whisper) lean its shapeless nothingness from the holy spirit

Poisoned I am by his holy feeble godness

(whisper) I spit him out in a bloody flood of phlegm

Their world is turned inside out
I take their lips to my mouth
The people lies in articulo mortis
I spread my wings and fly away
I'm the face of the night in which you all will drown I'm the power the almighty dark everlasting strength my body was for a moment cold and left alone still my breath is a sick unken smell
