

Orange Blue, Love And Fear

There's a tale that says that life is simple
When love is all around
Some say that the pain of being alive
Is the pain of love

And it'll make you fly above the highest mountain
But can make you dive into the sea of tears

And I believe that there are two sides of the story
It's all about you, it's all about me, it's all about

Love and fear
Like brother and sister
They're keeping together
Till the end of days

Love and fear
No light without darkness
No cure without pain
No sun without rain

Any love, someday, will melt into a phase
Of insecurity
And when affection is drifting
You'll find out if true love was ever there

Love will always be there to cover lovers
It'll help you through the lowest vale

Don't you think that there are two sides of the story
It's all about you, it's all about me, it's all about

Love and fear

Like brother and sister
They're keeping together
Till the end of days

Love and fear

No light without darkness
No cure without pain
No sun without rain

Nothing worse than a broken heart
Evil fear makes it fall apart
But you got to have faith
And see the brightness of the days

Love and fear

Like brother and sister
They're keeping together
Till the end of days

Love and fear

No light without darkness
No cure without pain
No sun without rain

Love and fear

Love and fear

Like brother and sister
They're keeping together
Till the end of days

Love and fear

Like brother and sister
