

Orange Blue, The Smile

I haven't got a doubt this time I just want you to be mine every day is friday since the day that you crossed my way and a part of you is always in that smile that's in my face Kathrin you fill my days no one can imagine how long a day can be without the one who gives me reason to keep myself busy even though I know that it won't make the time go fast to see your face at last it sometimes won't be easy and maybe you'll be freezing when I am not around to keep you warm but the distance to my body is not the distance to my heart that's why we aren't really far apart you should not think there's something wrong if I told you I'm in love it's not that complicated I have got no other faces what I said is what I need is I love you I guess I'm just in love with you
