

Ordo Rosarius Equilibrio, Where Happiness Ruled

We stood alone, where roses grew
A blood red sun, shone down on us
We stood alone, where life just won
In front of us, a fallen cross
We stood alone, where happiness ruled

We stood alone, where roses grew
The blackened moon, shone down on us
We stood alone, where prayers collapsed
The blood of Christ, covered the ground
We stood alone, where happiness ruled
