

Ornella Vanoni, Love's (Still) The Answer

Not so long ago
I would have told you
That the world was round
Good and Sound Freedom bound
The future was secure...
Now I'm not so sure It seems like gravity has been reversed
and gettin worse
Nothing works
And everybody hurts
Yes there's a trail of tears Down trough the years of broken hearts
it's still so hard to lete the sun shine in

Love's the answer
No matter what I swear love is It's still the answer Just like it always was Such simple truth Love never changes or betrays a friend From the start love was part of some fantastic plan some brotherhood of man

And now it's down to us We either shine the light or darkness rule
Our children lose We're free to choose our fate
To finda our way Beyond this veil of tears
the sky is clear an every star stands bor a heart that lets the sun shine in
