

Oscar Brand, Wilson, That's All

Now convention days are over
And election time is near
From East and West, from North to South
There's just one name in ev'ry mouth

When a fellow meets a fellow
And he says to him, "What's yours?"
He says, "I think I'll have to drink
To the Democratic cause"

It's "Wilson, that's all, Wilson, that's all!"
Who strikes the public sentiment
Say who will be our President?
It's Wilson, that's all

You'll hear them call, "Tammany, Tammany"
While on the street or on the car
While at your home or at the bar
It's "Wilson, Wilson, Wilson, that's all!"

Billy Taft had his steamroller
Teddy's hat was in the ring
Clark came to town with his darned old hound
Wilson kicked it all around

Billy Bryan, he made speeches,
Not a delegate would fall
Till someone sang, "How dry I am!"
and the crowd began to call

It's "Wilson, that's all, Wilson, that's all!"
Who strikes the public sentiment
Say who will be our President?
It's Wilson, that's all

You'll hear them call, "Tammany, Tammany"
While on the street or on the car
While at your home or at the bar
It's "Wilson, Wilson, Wilson, that's all!"
