

Osmo Ikonen, Storm

I bet you got your make up on
Even when you call him on the telephone
And when you do you use your sexy tone
The same one that use to put me on my begging bones
I bet you go out every night
You dine and wine by the candle light
Baby you got a lot of love to share
You give it away like candy at a county fair
Was it something I said
That made you share your bed
Whit someone else instead
I need to know
Have you showed him all the tricks you did to me
Didn't I treat you right
Didn't I make you smile
You were my first priority
You are the calm before the storm inside my head
And all I need is some shelter from the rain
My weakest link and you're about to break the chain
I got to find a shelter before it starts to rain
I wrote a letter just the other day
Just to shed some rain on her parade
&quot;Since you've been gone my life's been better&quot;
I've been doing real fine, so I might as well forget her
Maybe you found the love of your life, (so what!)
Well I've been getting a different ass every night
I don't care what non of y'all said
I got keep on fumping just as long as they spread&quot;
Have you showed him all the tricks you did to me
Didn't I treat you right
Didn't I make you smile
You were my first priority
You are the calm before the storm inside my head
And all I need is some shelter from the rain
My weakest link and you're about to break the chain
I got to find a shelter before it starts to rain
At least by now I know
That people come and go
And nothing lasts forever
And better days will come
But next time I see the sun
I don't let it blind me
You are the calm before the storm inside my head
And all I need is some shelter from the rain
My weakest link and you're about to break the chain
I got to find a shelter before it starts to rain
Oh, oh, oh, show me the shelter
You are the calm before the storm inside my head
I got the find a shelter
You are the calm before the storm inside my head
