Our Lady Peace, Is anybody home

Goodbye, the future's sold out There's no use screaming Who thought we'd ever get this far Tonight, your faith has come down To money & amp; a TV Psychics who've never been to Mars And nazis breast feeding I know you must be upset I can't find meaning I'm sorry, we're sorry We're all scared, all scared Hey, is anybody home Has anybody wasted tears on The loneliness That everyone becomes Goodnight, the truth has come out Everyone's needy White teeth, a ticket to meet God Be all that you envy The shotgun under your bed has Started breathing You shot it, you shot it I'm bare, I'm bare Hey, is anybody home Has anybody painted fear On the bedroom walls that save us from . . .
