

Ours, Disaster In A Halo

Lately Ive been thinking about what you said
Time is growing old and I am getting colder
Hungers just a pain that wont be fed
Ill be working for the ghost until Im dead and done

Disaster in a halo

Nothing even matters, nothing even matters, nothing even matters
Nothing even matters, nothing even matters, nothing even matters

Somewhere theres a girl with thoughts of him
She makes wishes in a well then fears them caving in on her, around, on her

Disaster in a halo

Nothing even matters, nothing even matters, nothing even matters
Nothing even matters, nothing even matters, nothing even matters

Cause in the well, plans will come and plans will go undone
I know, I know
And you cant tell, I will come and I will go and I know, I know
But why would I?
But why would I?

Disaster in a halo

Nothing even matters, nothing even matters, nothing even matters
Nothing even matters, nothing even matters, nothing even matters
