

Out of Eden, Showpiece

Yo, I don't appreciate you telling me the way that I should live
No, I think the choices you've laid out for me, the end is negative
So, take all your imagery and ideology, yes I'll be fine
When you go, I'd rather not display my physical I'd rather use my mind
You act like all I am to be is, just a sexy, sexy thing
Just a showpiece for all to see like a Bentley or your diamond ring
I know that I am more than that (don't believe the hype)
The One who made the stars and sun gave meaning to my life

Ohhh, I don't need you to define my b-e-a-u-t-y
I'd rather draw the line
Ohhh, I don't need you on my team, what you've selling's a pipe dream
And I don't need it baby

Hey! It seems a shame to me I've been reduced to an object of lust and hate
No way! Please understand that I refuse to be simply a height and weight
This day, somewhere we've lost the value of what a woman is supposed to be
A queen, respected and defined by her creator, size 24, 10, or size 3
You act like all I am to be is, just a sexy, sexy thing
Just a showpiece for all to see like a Bentley or your diamond ring
I know that I am more than that (don't believe the hype)
The One who made the stars and sun gave meaning to my life

It's my choice and I will decide, I won't let you destroy my pride
I'm no showpiece for you to hide, and lose all that I am inside
God made me and I'm beautiful, I won't dress like that kind of girl
R-e-s-p-e-c-t ,that's the way that you got to look at me
