

Out of Eden, You Brought The Sunshine

We search for outside conclusions to questions we have inside
We search for logical solutions to problems we cannot hide
We hope and pray the curse of war will be undone
And that the world will be as one
But we can't change it on our own, it takes more

Chorus:

Then and only then can we live in perfect harmony
Only if and when we sacrifice our comfort for the least of these Get together down on our knees and pray God give us peace

Then and only then

We need to stop looking on ourselves and look to the One who know all

He has the answers that can rebuild us, a foundation that will not fall

We hope and pray the curse of hate will be no more

But it may be different

At least we know what the power of prayer is for, let's unite

(chorus)

We know it's gonna take time to get it together, to follow it through

But if we try a little bit harder, just think what we could do

If we only knew

(chorus out)
