Out Of Season, Drake

Turning now she caught his eye For all he knows he cannot see Pleasures smoulder inside Cover seasons that fell from view Long ago Blame on your heart But then you know that now What do you do You hide lies inside Why do you do that I don't know why How long did i know you For i don't know why you had to go If only you had told her The words to enfold her Long ago She took a breath and she never spoke The words that tasted like to know she told a matinee There was an odour/Unannounced anyway But you can take and you can see There's never enough of love for destiny Don't look back from day to day What i noticed wasn't me Strangers they'll part again They'll never know For all the years they've disguised inside Knowing their years of loss remain

How long did i know you For i don't know why you had to go If only you had told her The words to enfold her Long ago
