

Over It, A Sight For Sore Eyes

Still easy enough to walk away harder facing whats in front of you id rather watch tv than spend one more night alone indecision makes me want to wish that i could see much more than all these images these jaded eyes show me wont stop hoping for someday you'll meet me there when i saw you saturday i closed my eyes and you ran away still dont know if i might get it right have to walk away, stuck outside with all my fears tonight
