

Over The Rhine, I Will Remember

I Will Remember

words: Detweiler

music: Detweiler and Bergquist

recording: Amateur Shortwave Radio

I will remember
every dream about you
I will remember
I could not doubt you
All my first impressions of my new possession
I will remember
I will remember

Every shadow
every shiver
every breath of borrowed air somehow
I feel now Every whisper taken prisoner
every brush of cloud
and furrowed brow
I feel
This last day darling
Here with me (darling)
All the rest is history

I will remember
every sliver of you
I will remember
every door we slip through every curving hour
every dying ember
I will remember
there is no other

Every color of our sorrow every fallen angel's graceful bow
I feel now
Every broken word unspoken
Every crooked line of this sad town
I feel
This last day darling
Here with me (darling)
All the rest is history

Every kiss and curse
every burning thirst
every fix and flush of fire
I feel right now Every sound we make is a new prayer prayed disappearing disappearing
I hold on now Every shade of white in the thieving night that we steal to grow inspired I know right now
This last day darling
Here with me (darling)

But I will remember

every dream about you
I will remember
I could not doubt you
I will remember
No other lover
there is no other
