

Oxymoron, Crazy World

Your life's so weird you doubt it's real and reject it all
Cause years ago when you were a child no one told you so
Well , I know about your problem, there's loads like us around
So don't make no secret of what you found out

[Chorus:]

C'mon, the world is crazy
An open loony bin
No walls fix the species
Of psychopaths within
... and we're all part of it

The white coats simply draw the line for their own defense
Say, who defines normality and where it ends ?
If those they call lunatics are mental home inmates
Then we're just the ones in disguise

Just look around, what do you see?
The world is crazy, but so are we
You can't find out what's going wrong
Cause you're as well out of control

Lurking out there on the streets and wherever you go
A morbid world's awaiting you with stange thing to show
