

Oxymoron, Kamikaze

Living in a shell had never been a thing for me
Safe in private places you just ponder what's to be
I'm in need of action but you rather fade away
Living in your own world where you keep to things you can take

[Chorus:]

You slogged all day and get your pay
And lock yourself away

Are you sure You're living?
Just going through the motions
Ordered life and slaving
I'm fed up with this bullshit

Are you sure you're living?
Headlong into my fate
I'm better off without it and live on straight ahead

All the time you're abusing those you claim who go astray
Still don't dare to break out of the boring life you lead
