

Ozark Mountain Daredevils, Following The Way T

(SOLO GUITAR INTRO)

lately I've felt a little crazy like I do when that moon's gettin' full is there a change in the air or the way that I care how can I explain how I feel wish I knew me better and I would if I half-tried but my will is strong and it just carries me on following the way that I feel no my love ain't dead it just got to my head and I need a little space to feel free

(GUITAR SOLO)

lately, I've gone a lot of places and seen a lot of things I didn't need to see maybe I followed a star a little bit too far and lost something along the way or maybe I needed to lose something I shouldn't have had but it feels so good to take a second look following the way that I feel

no my love ain't dead it just got to my head
and I need a little space to feel free

(GUITAR SOLO)

I feel loose and contented like to go where I want, when I can if I set too much, my thoughts begin to rush and nothin' is clear that I hear

I guess I'm a mover just travelin' through my life to somewhere

but it feels so good to take a second look
following the way that I feel
no my love ain't dead it just got to my head
and I need a little space to feel free while following the way that I feel while I'm following,

following the way that I feel
while I'm following,
following the way that I feel
(GUITAR SOLO)

Lyrics are copyright 1977, Larry Lee