

Ozark Mountain Daredevils, Fool's Gold

(GUITAR & KEYBOARDS INTRO)

I was falling off to sleep

I was drawn into a dream and the lady there would weep

'till it turned into a stream and she let me touch her heart and listen to her sing and she watched me fall apart like a man who would be kiiiiing ice cold water, running through her veins fool's gold and mirrors, reflecting nothing bright lady liar, bitter to the taste foolish desire, left no trail to traaaaaace

(ACOUSTIC GUITAR SOLO)

so I say her name again

I know she knows my call and I feel the dream begin like a shadow on the wall she's a shadoooooow

she's a shadaw

she's a shadaw

she's a shadaw

she's a shadaw

she's a shadaw

ice cold water, running through her veins

fool's gold and mirrors, reflecting nothing

bright lady liar, bitter to the taste

foolish desire, left no traaaaaaaaaail to traace

ice cold water, running through her veins

fool's gold and mirrors, reflecting nothing

bright lady liar, bitter to the taste

foolish desire, leeeeft noooo traaaaaaaaaail to traace

Lyrics are copyright 1980, Steve Cash, John Dillon & Larry Lee