

Pacific!, Break Your Social System

When you really by yourself
Nothing can go wrong
No matter what you take you will never be you
If you follow the rules
Can't you see that you are not the only one Break your, break your social system Dont you give it up to change it all see you at the club, holding on to your own life as if it is was called in years of joy whish you understood you are really free No matter what you take, you never be you

if you follow the rules,
cant you see that you are not the only one dont you give it up too change it all
cant you see that you are not the only one
