

Pacifier, Everything

You've got a perfect girl And it's a perfect world You've built a fortress around you Can see no reason not to continue

The things that you've always dreamed about You know that in time they'll be running out stop turnin around and round and round...

everything you wanted will be falling down like castles in the sand everything you needed in the world you're holdin, holdin in your hands

And if this comfortable life is your only passage through time just make sure you can break through the walls that you are building around you the things that you always dreamed about

you know that in time, they'll be running out
stop turnin around and round and round...

everything you needed in the world you're holdin, holdin in your hands

you wanna be part of the world you gotta hand somethin over you wanna be part of the world

the things that you always dreamed about
stop turnin around and round and round...

everything you needed in the world you're holdin, holdin in your hands

(everythiiiiing) don't you want to hold it, hold it now (everythiiiiing) that you need, you're holdin in your hands (everythiiiiing) don't you want to hold it, hold it now (everythiiiiing) that you need, is in your hands
