Pacifier / Shihad, The Metal Song

Sometimes I burn like a paper dog but mostly, the thing I like doing is doing nothing at all you're right, I'm going nowhere I've got nowhere to go and super-colour nightmare's got something of a hold

So we're slaves of destiny now, are we? and it's always such an effort to believe in what you want to be believe in what you want to be

I take a leather pouch when I go out there's no money in it but boredom hits where it most counts I've had my limit well we will rise again and boredom ain't my freind

Don't turn your back. don't you be no slack jack. don't turn your back. x2

So we're slaves of destiny now, are we? thats why it's gonna be such an effot to see... that in a young country we're free to be what we want to be gotta ditch the distractions to create a reaction
