

Pacifier, Stranger

The night goes on and on
It seems like it's forever
Wish we were home instead
Of how it's turning out
It's something that you cannot explain
The one thing that gets in the way

Don't say the things that you said
Can't you see that we are made of mistakes
You've become a stranger to me now
You kept it all inside instead of letting it come out

Love saying I'll be there and knowing that you mean it
We could go anywhere and never be apart
There's something you cannot escape
There's one thing you can never fake

Don't say the things you said
Can't you see that we are made of mistakes
You've become a stranger to me now
You kept it all inside instead of letting it come out

Through all the lonely days and all the time
That I've spent waiting to finally be with you again
Just to discover that you've changed
And things will never be the same

Don't say the things you said
Can't you see that we are made of mistakes
You've become a stranger to me now
You kept it all inside instead of letting it come out

Yeah it's gone too far this time
Yeah you let it slip away
Yeah we've gone too far this time
Things will never be the same
