

Paddy Goes To Holyhead, Love Song No. 90

Dreary clouds are drifting by the moon whis'prin' sadness
to my thoughts it seems autumn winds
and rainy days
shadows in the dark
nightmare
in a never ending dream

Thunder clouds
upon the stormy foam
lightning like a bright bolt
from the blue
ragin' rolling waves
effected blackouts in my mind the world is cold
and cheerless without you

Dreary clouds
and darkness fade away
the rising sun
shines on the morning dew winds and doubts slowly fade as wistful time goes by the moment I am certain
I love you
