said you loved me i said i loved you too i love your stupid smile and the stupid things the stupid things you do you said you needed me i said i need you too and all that time i wasted just writing songs for you you said you wanted me i said i want you too the thing you didnt realize is all i want is you broken hearts and broken strings are all that i have seen since the day you left me young naive and seventeen since that day well things they have not changed things are still the same as broken hearts and broken strings for me you said you loved me

i love your stupid smile and the stupid things the stupid things you do
