

Page 44, We Know The Way

Fascinated by our own mortality we're not the only ones who dream wonder how long it is that we've got left but it's impossible to say

Wide awake i swear i draw that final breath and the question does not exist these are questions that are running through my head as we get closer to that day

cuz we know the way
and nobody lives forever
we know the way
each day it's closer than ever

We must not fear the path that we must take everybody has to die

try to put these thoughts to the back of your mind try to forget these men who cry some people they believe in a promise land but who don't know if it's really there different religions believe in different things but that's the point is to be scared that's the point is to be scared

we know the way

cuz we will
when we die
this time can't buy
when we die
there's no time to cry

we know the way

We know the way
