

Page44, We Know The Way

Fascinated by our own mortality
We're not the only ones who dream
Wonder how long it is that we've got left
It's impossible to say
What awaits us when we draw that final breath
And the question just got exempt
These are questions that are running through my head
As we get closer to that day
As we get closer to that day
We know the way
I know nobody lives forever
We know the way
Each day is closer than ever
We know the way
We must not fear the path that we must take
Everybody has to die
Try and put these thoughts to the back of your Mind
Try and forget them and don't cry
Some people, they believe in a promised land
But we don't know it's really there
Different religions believe in different things
But at some point, let's still be scared
At some point, let's still be scared
We know the way
I know nobody lives forever
We know the way
Each day is closer than ever
We know the way
Cuz we know
When we die
In this time
We count by
Cuz we know
When we die
There's no time to cry
We know the way
I know nobody lives forever
We know the way
Each day is closer than ever
