Pain Teens, Manouche

Manouche, the sky is wide reflected in your eyes Black as a moonless night, darkness of starless skies. Manouche, I fell into love when I saw your face For precious moments I was lost in your embrace.

Manouche, you went away Your voice lost to my ears Into the silent sea I have poured silent tears. Manouche I'd live anew, Come back into my arms Life is cold without you Without your quiet charm.