Palaxy Tracks, Legs On The Ladder

The champion of giving lover's lessons like How to find love when your man is never there Angel I'm coming over, do you promise you'll never leave?

Now it's love that I find when they know you're seeing me But it's love that will die with the shit that they believe

Tell your friends that I'm coming over, and to leave the light on for me I'm not prepared to burn through the lies

Soundtrack runs through songs alike I'm tired of singing
Legs are made for more than running
Faster, faster
Wish my friends would tell me right
I'd leave the liar behind
If everything turns out right (If ever I listen)

I talk about things when I know you're not prepared But how can I learn when your mouth is like a gun that turns out lies?