

Palaxy Tracks, The Clarion Way

Baby you're driving me crazy
You cold little person just learning to hide
Some days are better than others
We fight and we make up
It's part of our day

So choose an injury
We'll operate in time
Until then you can live through mine

The sun to rise and bury our lovers
Those brave little soldiers
That live in our minds

Right before we fight I know you're right
Tonight we'll learn to try and change our lives
(Song done)

In spite of the rising sun there's something that must be done
Some day I'll be coming home
I'm bored of the lonely life
And baby you never know what your man is gonna do until it's already been done

Don't drive
I thought that I wanted it but now we're upon it I'm changing my mind
