

Pale Forest, Puny Minds

Crystal wings on angel backs descending far above our tracks Puny minds beneath their lives
A flight of glory over star encrusted skies

Drift into obscurity's passage where silence is all
Drift into obscurity's passage
where silence is all where nothing is all

And no one below knows where the truth lies Nothing really fades and nothing really dies
From child to senile, from senile to child Unbreakable circle, the river running wild
