

Pale Forest, These Old Rags

Smoother surface than before eyes set to a different shore
But what of that which lives within this face

Sweeter scent than before renewed temptation, open door
But what of that which stirs inside this body

My colours have faded to gray
I know
Inside I feel the same
You've left to see a fresher show
To burn another flame

Warmer weather than before storming fire now in store
But what of the lightning we made

My colours have faded to gray
I know
Inside I feel the same
