Pale Forest, We Have Died

Did you know?
while you were sleeping I was not
Did you know?
I couldn't sleep cause of the things you never said I waited for so many nights to hear you say how every road I walked became the wrong way

When I tried to get to you I tried to reach the inner child All those times I tried to hold you left me feeling we had died we had died

Did you know? when we fought last night I knew that the blame was really mine this time I tried to make you show me a hint of what you tried to hide turne the tide

When I tried to get to you I tried to reach the inner child All those times I tried to hold you left me feeling we had died we had died
